03. How do I get VIP access at the airport?

Fly in a premium cabin or fly very regularly – The most common, and most expensive, way to access an airport lounge is to either travel in a premium cabin or belong to one of the higher tiers of a loyalty scheme. If you travel in Business or First class, most airlines offer you one-off access to one of their lounges.

04. How do you use VIP lounges at airports?

If you're already at the airport, just walk up to the lounge entrance and ask if you're eligible for entry. If you are, note that you will need to present your access credential (such as the credit card that includes access or your Priority Pass card), your photo ID and your boarding pass.
